The energy sector is broad, and presenters should expect to address an audience from a wide variety professional roles and perspectives within the energy industry.

For the abstract, please include the topic(s) you wish to speak on, and provide a general topic overview and specific examples you might talk about. Attach an outline of your potential presentation. The abstract and outline each should not be more than 1-page. We will also need your contact information, a short bio about the speaker, and information about the organization you represent if applicable.
